Beautiful Structure Here Moved Into Early This Morning

HANDSOMELY FINISHED

Building One Well Calculated To Attract Attention—Up-to-Date in All Particulars

Without ceremony save in the haste to get away from the structure which has done good service to Charleroi for about 20 years, the new Charleroi passenger station was dedicated to use this morning. Having undergone the inspection of railroad officials last week, seats were moved from the old station this morning and it was ready for occupancy. Now the cares and worries of moving day, are upon the force of employees.

Built of buff brick, with broad shapely roofs stretching forth over it, the new station presents a beautiful appearance. The roofs are of green tile. A driveway is being constructed. A grass plot will enhance the beauty of the surroundings.

Possibly the interior of the building is even more handsomely constructed than the exterior. There is a large general waiting room in the center, with openings at the east and west ends. Openings towards the freight station to the southern part of the building is a women's retiring room. Towards Fifth street, the general waiting room opens into a men's smoking room. Toilet rooms finished with marble, lead forth from these separate compartments. There is a door opening into the men's smoking room from the exterior, as well as from the interior of the station, but there is only one opening to the women's retiring room, that from the interior. The ticket office, a spacious, up-to-date—office room, nicely furnished, stands off toward the railroad tracks. Built to a certain height with brick and from that point up with glass, and having a marble counter-shelf, this ticket office adds to the general handsome appearance. Seats now being used were taken from the old station for the general waiting room and the men's smoking room, but other benches will be provided as soon as possible. Chairs have been placed in the women's retiring room. At the southern end of the station the baggage room is located. It is a commodious room with a block floor. It contains a large scale, and will have within a few days a baggage platform.

The station is finished in what is known as the "Philippino style." The ceiling and walls have been painted a delicious soft color, which blends beautifully with the wood work which presents a mission finish. The general waiting room has an inlaid floor, the women's retiring room a wood floor and the men's room a red

To Relocate Frick Lines

Engineers of Big Coke Concern Checking Up Surveys Made Sometime Ago

To relocate lines of the tract of coal land which the H. C. Frick Coke company purchased in this region some months ago, a corps of engineers have been sent here. With the party are Chief Wasabaugh, Charles Keedy, Earl Kelp, Carl Marshall and William Eneix, the latter of Charleroi. The work will be largely to check up the work done by practically the same crew of engineers some time ago. That does not necessarily mean a mine opening will be made by the H. C. Frick company at once.

DISTRICT OFFICERS PLAN CONVENTION

Sunday School Workers Want to Secure Big Tabernacle Together With Evangelist Burrows and His Company

If a plan outlined by district officers of the Washington county Sunday school association does not go wrong, when the time for holding the annual county Sunday School convention next June comes around, there will not be the usual confusion in getting churches in which to hold services.

The plan was outlined Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. J. T. Hackett, one of the district committee. It is to secure the tabernacle used by Rev. A. E. Burrows, the evangelist at the Methodist church last week, for the two days' session. There is a considerable sentiment in favor of securing Rev. Burrows here for a five or six weeks evangelistic campaign together with his company, next summer, and to have it specified that his tabernacle be used partly for the Sunday school convention. The inference would be that he would be one of the chief speakers at the convention.

Whether a direct invitation will be extended to Rev. Burrows or not is yet a question. That is a matter on which ministers and laymen will work, and if there is a sentiment enough the invitation will be officially extended.

FALLS DEAD WHILE CHASTISING BOY

Mother Victim to Heart Disease as She Undertakes to Whip Youngster

Mrs. John Yuscovitch of Gallatin, a mining town across the river from Monongahela, called her 10-year-old to come in the house Saturday. The lad did not obey and the mother naturally aroused by the disobedience, went after the lad and began chastising him. The excitement proved too much for her and she dropped dead, the victim of a weak heart.

JOHNSTOWN WILL APPEAR TONIGHT

Johnstown in the Central Basketball league will make its first appearance here tonight when the team will meet the Charleroi five. Captain Jack Adams has his team in good shape. Saturdays game which Charleroi won from Connellsville put the local tossers in third place. If they win tonight they will dislodge Johnstown from second place and grab it themselves. Needless to say the team hopes to win.

At a meeting of the league in Pittsburgh Sunday a new schedule for the following two weeks was adopted. Charleroi plays tonight and on Friday night of this week at home, on Friday night with Southside.

State Commissioner and Deputies to Look for Violations

HAS THE BEST BACKING

Will be Aided by Gov. Tener and Attorney General Bell in the Fight

Since James Foust has been at the head of the Dairy and Food Bureau of the Department of Agriculture in Pennsylvania, he has been confronted by a number of difficult problems, but when these matters of administration lay entirely within the bounds of the Keystone State, there has been but little difficulty in adjustment as local dealers and manufacturers have always been ready to meet the authorities in a friendly spirit and assist in correcting any existing evil.

However, there are other forces to be dealt with in some manufacturers outside the State, who do not scruple to foist upon the trade food-stuffs made from inferior and deleterious materials that enables them to undersell local men and deceive the consuming public. Among the most glaring of these at present is the cheap grades of candies covered with varnish and shellac, commonly referred to as resinous glazes, which Commissioner Foust pronounces as unsanitary and in violation of the general food act approved May 13, 1909, in that confectionary coated with a resinous glaze affects the quality, strength and purity, also conceals inferiority and is injurious to health; and, following his ruling on the question made some time ago, he has already entered some fifteen suits against offenders selling this class of goods, and there will be more to follow.

The Commissioner in speaking of the matter this morning said that n some samples his agents had collected, he found that the varnish and shellac applied to the confections had rendered them as hard as flint, and the effect on the stomach of the child could not help being injurious, as any laymen who uses shellac to cover wood could easily determine for himself without the aid of any expert. The shellac is used simply to cheapen and preserve his product for the manufacturer, without the slightest reference to the health of the consumer or any other consideration except that of pure selfishness and commercial profit.

But in dealing with the powerful forces in the commercial world who would further their own interests at the expense of the public, every resource of the Department will have to be marshaled for the fight and the Commissioner has already arranged with the Federal authorities to secure their hearty and active cooperation. United States District Attorney John H. Jordan of the Western District of Pennsylvania, will assist in the matter, as will also Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry at Washington, whose experts will be present at the trial of the cases to give testimony.

The following is an extract from a letter received from Dr. Wiley by Commissioner Foust a few days ago. "In so far as the cases have been

THE TRUSTS FIRST.

It is daily becoming more apparent that United States Senator Boies Penrose talked with authority when he announced recently that the trust regulation would certainly be the most important business of the next session of Congress. Many statesmen regardless of their political affiliations have found by investigation that some trusts are harmless and that others are distinctly harmful. It therefore seems certain that the coming session of Congress will be devoted to promoting the good trusts and regulating and suppressing the bad ones.

In the meantime the tariff question is practically certain to await the recommendations of the tariff board named to study the complicated question from every view point. The political leaders are wide apart on the proposed tariff revision and the recommendations to be made by the
parties and to the country at large.
Both parties are hurrying to the conclusion that after all the tariff question is secondary to that of the trusts and now that all the leaders of thought in the country are lining up for the proposed trust regulation it is conceded that trusts must come first in considering legislation intended for the good of all the people.

President Taft has been contending for a clearer meaning for the Sherman anti-trust law and in his contentions he is certain to have the support of the regular Republicans in both branches of Congress

TOO MUCH COMPETITION

In these days of "trust busting" governmental prosecutions of big industrial corporations and general hostility to combinations of capital and energy in productive and distributive agencies, it is somewhat startling to note that out of the midst of expert and intelligent discussions as to the cause of the high cost of living, one of the conclusions is that there is too much cost in the matter of distributing commodities from producer and consumer. All who have investigated the matter to any extent are agreed that there are too many retainers. In other words, too much unrestrained competition.

Take the grocery business in every city or large town. There is scarcely a block that does not contain one or more grocery stores. Those that make any pretensions at all have a delivery wagon and a solicitor, and the consumer has not only to pay for the cost of the equipment but for the wages of the drivers and solicitor
and the cost of the horse feed. Free delivery includes all these cost charges. One-fourth or one-half of the groceries would supply all the needs, thereby saving the cost of so many individual delivery equipments and solicitors. One big establishment like Kaufman's in Pittsburgh would no doubt be glad to supply groceries at infinitely less cost than they are now sold at, if they
trade of the city.

Charleroi residents are paying ten cents a quart for milk for the reason that about thirty members of the
are engaged in the business, and the consumer has to pay for all the individual equipment and cost of each distribution. The cost of distributing milk in Charleroi could be reduced at least one-half, if there were some regulation of the traffic.
Before the Standard Oil company got control of the petroleum industry country patrons paid fifty cents a gallon for oil with which to light their houses. There is too much competition in the retail distribution of the food products and the people are paying for the unnecessary cost.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

It's saddening to the various trusts
the way this Sherman anti-trust law is being interpreted.

We saw a grocer the other day who sold sugar for eight cents a pound and charged 50 cents for six pounds.
The extra two cents must be for the extra sized paper sack needed.

newspaper man's essentially in that the former can be called down and can't even say "damn" and the latter can be called down and relieve his feelings in more picturesque terms than damn and still be tolerated.

Many men who pretend to be very independent always back away from the issue when the show-down comes.

There are two ghosts which haunt
—the ghost of a chance and the ghost of the bill collector.

Farmer Assemblyman Edward
Callaghan, although a staunch Democrat of the Jeffersonian school is an ardent admirer of United States Senator Boies Penrose. He became acquainted with the Senator in the Legislature when the latter represented one of the State Senatorial districts of Philadelphia, before he was elected to the United States Senate.

"I stirred up a commotion in the Legislature by introducing a resolution to do away with the services of a chaplain in opening the session with prayer," said Mr. Callaghan.
"I gave as my reasons when approached on the subject that in view of the differences in religious worship."

"That question will come up again at some future time," remarked Senator Penrose, who was a listener, and Mr. Callaghan's views will be upheld in placing on an even pane the legislative department of our government with the executive and judicial."

"It was these sentiments thus expressed that caused me to be in Harrisburg the night that the Penrose gun was fired over the dead body of John Wanamaker—I mean in a political way. It is not generally known that there is an old army pistol in the Penrose family, handed down from Revolutionary days, that is always fired to signal a victory. I was standing among the surging mass of people in front of the Lochey Hotel when the pistol was discharged from an upstairs window, proclaiming the election of State Senator Penrose to the United States Senate

"While I am politically opposed to Senator Penrose, and would vote against him at all times in favor of a Democrat, yet I recognize him as the ablest and most honorable statesman in the ranks of the Republican party."

At a recent teachers institute in one of the interior townships one of the attendants related a bright report of a small boy to a school director who was trying to "kid" the pupils when called upon as a visitor to "say something."

The visiting director, who was a farmer, arose to make the customary address, and thought he would have some sport at the expense of the
Facing the boys' side of the room he said:

"Now boys, can you tell me what nothing is?"

There was a pause for a few moments and then one small boy piped up:

"It's what a farmer gives you for
to the post-office."

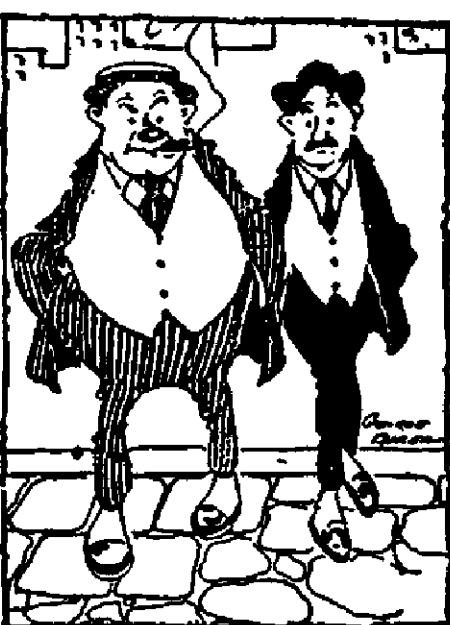

Fall of the Year.

Silver and mauve of sea holly, foxgloves all purple and snow,
Bells blue as sea in the sunlight, daisies
like stars in a row;
Phlox where the wind loves to linger
with a soft little sound like rain—These are my garden's glory at the fall of the year again.

and balm and rue,
Thyme in soft cushions of purple, lav-ender's mist of blue, Mignonette's russet and amber, lad's
love and marjoram—
These make the sweet of my garden at the fall of the year again.

Hollyhocks splendid in satin, peach-hued
and pink and pearl, Fuchsias like cardinals for ladies a-swing to the wind's soft whirl, Anemones cur'd like pale sea shells that cherish the waves' refrain—
"Mong them I roam ne'er remembering

Pews at Cut Rates.

rent will fetch the bargain hunter every time," said a sexton. "Only last week a young woman who expects to make her home in this city concluded that of all city churches of this denomination she liked ours best and would take a pew here, but when she found she could get a pew that suited her about as well in another church for $2 a year less she let all other considerations go by the board and identified herself with that church."

How Chinese Paint.

Nearly all the painting in the foreign settlements and all in the Chinese cities is done by native workmen with Chinese paint. The use of Chinese material and labor is because of cheapness, although a piece of work

painter taking a bunch of cotton waste, which he saturates by dipping in the paint pot and then rubbing it over the surface to be painted. Even if foreign brushes are furnished the Chinese painter will not use them.
He says he saves paint by his method and gets it more evenly distributed over the surface. On exterior surfaces the Chinese paint is not durable, but the coat is so small that the job can be done two or three times for what one painting would cost in Amer-

To Burn Oil on Warships.

The naval authorities are much pleased with the success of the oilburning equipment of the new torpedo-boat destroyers recently placed in commission, and the tentative designs of the boats of this class which congress will be asked to authorize will call for oil-burning apparatus for the generation of steam for the turbine engines. The latest battleships have provision for the auxiliary use
of liquid fuel, which is carried in the double bottoms, and probably those
for ships, depending entirely upon liquid fuel, on account of the fact that it is not so universally available

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N.Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches,
and bearing down
pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much,
and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear
corsets all the time.

But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. A. A.

The above is only one of the thou-
constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

Cornissel, "around here he's mostly noted for arguments that won't he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do,"

coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel

Article, With Bag in Which to Carry
It, May Be Made at Home at Comparatively Small Ex-

There is always a great deal of pleasure in anticipating a holiday, and, therefore, the preparation of those little things that will be of use to us should be a very pleasant task, and in our sketches we show two useful little articles that will be of great service.

For a long railroad journey a cushion is a great luxury, but for carrying it to and from the station it is as well

sketch we show a very practical case of this description.

It can be made in art serge of some nice dark color, and it is fitted with a fold-over flap that buttons down on to one side. Below this, a roomy pocket is arranged in which papers and
may be carried.

large pocket, capable of containing almost anything we are likely to require while traveling.

may be attached to one of the loops and may then be passed through the
the cushion adjusted to a convenient
tied to the second loop of ribbon. With the cushion suspended in this manner no amount of jolting of the train will displace it, and if we should happen

We Guarantee to Relieve Dyspepsia. If We Fail, the Medicine Costs Nothing

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspep-
that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well-known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized
invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is carefully prepared so as to develop its greatest efficiency.
Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid.
Without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The Carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This combination of these ingredients makes a remedy in-
indigestion and dyspepsia.

urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at remain in position.

Another use to which the two loops
the cushion over the upper part of the wood-work of a deck chair. The loops
allow the cushion to hang just in the
over the upper ends of the two side

Worry and Expense.

One feels the first maker must have had several small sons to have thought of such a simple, yet such a practical affair as the combination suit for boys.

ordinary suit of clothes, usually made in the Norfolk style which is so universally becoming to boys, with one coat and two pairs of trousers.

Now as every mother of a growing,
healthy boy knows and appreciates, a pair of trousers will wear out very much more quickly than a coat. Siding down cellar doors, climbing fences and trees, getting down on one's knees to play marbles and other juvenile masculine pursuits—all these have a shortening effect on the life of an ordinary pair of small trousers.
Too frequently the small boy's coat is but half worn when the trousers are
"all gone." With this new suit the boy may have a fresh pair when the first pair goes, or he may wear the
little wear on each pair at the same time.

Cares for the Birds.
Many women have taken great interest in the Audubon society, a concrete illustration being the Mary Dutcher memorial fund and the Sage fund.
The Mary Dutcher fund was named in memory of the daughter of Mr. Dutcher, who was the spirit of the Audubon society organization; $7,548 has been contributed to the fund by the friends of Mr. Dutcher. Mrs. Sage, who loves birds and all wild animals, began her work by a gift of $500, to be used for the care of the robins, and a few days afterwards she followed the gift with another of $5,000, as she had found that in the South the robin is regarded as a game bird, and consequently needs better protection. She will give $5,000 for the next two years to make the protection of this bird more adequate. Field agents will be engaged with the funds she has placed at the disposal of the society, and they will try to see that any law in reference to the bird is obeyed.

Heaven Here.
When I was away for my holiday, I went once to the side of a little highland loch on a calm day, when all the winds were still, and every birch tree stood unmoved, and every twig reflected on the steadfast mirror, into the depths of which heaven's own blue seemed to have found its way.
That is what our hearts may be, if we let Christ put his guarding hand round them to keep the storms off, and have him within us for our rest.
But the man who does not trust Jesus is like the troubled sea which cannot rest, but goes moaning around half the world, homeless and hungry, rolling and heaving, monotonous and yet changeable, salt and barren, the true emblem of every soul that has not listened to the merciful call: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." —Doctor Maclaren.

How Some Explosions Are Caused.
It has been discovered that when the atmosphere is just right, or possibly just wrong, a man may start his own explosion. The American Museum of Safety says that many persons are able to throw off a spark of electricity on the principle of static energy. A metallic funnel or any piece of metal in their hands will form an electrode, so that when the funnel comes in contact with the opening of a metal can or tank containing benzine a spark is caused. If the vapor is in a proper condition or, in other words, if the mixture of air and hydro-carbon gas contains the right proportions of each, an explosion occurs. Of course, people note that all such accidents can be guarded against by providing the can or tank with a fire screen or other safety device similar to those used in mines for protection against gas ignition.

Beautiful Structure Here Moved Into Early
This Morning

Building One Well Calculated To Attract Attention--Up-to-Date in All Particulars

Without ceremony save in the haste to get away from the structure which has done good service to Charleroi for about 20 years, the new Charleroi passenger station was dedicated to use this morning. Having undergone the inspection of railroad officials last week, seats were moved from the old station this morning and it was ready for occupancy. Now the cares and worries of moving day, are upon the force of employees.

Built of buff brick, with broad shapely roofs stretching forth over it, the new station presents a beautiful appearance. The roofs are of green tile. A driveway is being constructed. A grass plot will enhance the beauty of the surroundings.

Possibly the interior of the building is even more handsomely constructed than the exterior. There is a large general waiting room in the center, with openings at the east and west ends. Openings towards the freight station to the southern part of the building is a women's retiring room. Towards Fifth street, the general waiting room opens into a men's smoking room. Toilet rooms finished with marble, lead forth from these separate compartments. There is a door opening into the men's smoking room from the exterior, as well as from the interior of the station, but there is only one opening to the women's retiring room, that from the interior. The ticket office, a spacious, up-to-date office room, nicely furnished, stands off toward the railroad tracks. Built to a certain height with brick and from that point up with glass, and having a marble counter-shelf, this ticket office adds to the general handsome appearance. Seats now being used were taken from the old station for the general waiting room and the men's smoking room, but other benches will be provided as soon as possible. Chairs have been placed in the women's retiring room. At the southern end of the station the baggage room is located. It is a commodious room with a block floor. It contains a large scale, and will have within a few days a baggage platform.

The station is finished in what is known as the "Philippino style." The ceiling and walls have been painted a delicious soft color, which blends beautifully with the wood work which presents a mission finish. The general waiting room has an inlaid floor, the women's retiring room a wood floor and the men's room a red

Engineers of Big Coke Concern Checking Up Surveys Made Sometime Ago

To relocate lines of the tract of coal land which the H. C. Frick Coke company purchased in this region some months ago, a corps of engineers have been sent here. With the party are Chief Wasabaugh, Charles Keedy, Earl Kelp, Carl Marshall and William Eneix, the latter of Charleroi. The work will be largely to check up the work done by practically the same crew of engineers some time ago. That does not necessarily mean a mine opening will be made by the H. C. Frick company at once.

Mother of Former Charleroi Man Dies at Her Home in Millsboro

FUNERAL HELD TODAY

Mrs. Violet Hoge, aged 84 years of Millsboro, died at her home Saturday night at 7 o'clock following an illness of three months due to the infirmities of her advanced years. Mrs. Hoge was one of the most widely known residents of this section.

Mrs. Hoge was born near Waynesburg on April 14, 1827. Her maiden name was Mitchell. The death of her husband Craven Hoge, occurred on March 11, 1870.

Four children survive as follows: Captain W. A. Hoge formerly of Charleroi, now of Pittsburg; Captain Thomas A. Hoge, Mrs. Jesse Virgin and Miss Millie Hoge all of Millsboro. Three half-sisters also survive as follows: Mrs. Caroline Dedwith and Mrs. Parmelia Thorp, both of Waynesburg and Miss Debbie Woodruff of Pittsburg. Twelve grandchildren also survive.

The funeral services were held at the late residence this afternoon at 1 o'clock in charge of the Rev. D. A. Cooper. The interment was in the Millsboro cemetery.

Sunday School Workers Want to Secure Big Tabernacle Together With Evangelist Burrows and His Company

If a plan outlined by district officers of the Washington county Sunday school association does not go wrong, when the time for holding the annual county Sunday School convention next June comes around, there will not be the usual confusion in getting churches in which to hold services.

The plan was outlined Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. J. T. Hackett, one of the district committee. It is to secure the tabernacle used by Rev. A. E. Burrows, the evangelist at the Methodist church last week, for the two days' session. There is a considerable sentiment in favor of securing Rev. Burrows here for a five or six weeks evangelistic campaign together with his company, next summer, and to have it specified that his tabernacle be used partly for the Sunday school convention. The inference would be that he would be one of the chief speakers at the convention.

Whether a direct invitation will be extended to Rev. Burrows or not is yet a question. That is a matter on which ministers and laymen will work, and if there is a sentiment enough the invitation will be officially extended.

Mother Victim to Heart Disease as She Undertakes to Whip Youngster

Mrs. John Yuscovitch of Gallatin, a mining town across the river from Monongahela, called her 10-year-old to come in the house Saturday. The lad did not obey and the mother naturally aroused by the disobedience, went after the lad and began chastising him. The excitement proved too much for her and she dropped dead, the victim of a weak heart.

Bell in the Fight

Since James Foust has been at the head of the Dairy and Food Bureau of the Department of Agriculture in Pennsylvania, he has been confronted by a number of difficult problems, but when these matters of administration lay entirely within the bounds of the Keystone State, there has been but little difficulty in adjustment as local dealers and manufacturers have always been ready to meet the authorities in a friendly spirit and assist in correcting any existing evil.

However, there are other forces to be dealt with in some manufacturers outside the State, who do not scruple to foist upon the trade food-stuffs made from inferior and deleterious materials that enables them to undersell local men and deceive the consuming public. Among the most glaring of these at present is the cheap grades of candies covered with varnish and shellac, commonly referred to as resinous glazes, which Commissioner Foust pronounces as unsanitary and in violation of the general food act approved May 18, 1909, in that confectionary coated with a resinous glaze affects the quality, strength and purity, also conceals inferiority and is injurious to health; and, following his ruling on the question made some time ago, he has already entered some fifteen suits against offenders selling this class of goods, and there will be more to follow.

The Commissioner in speaking of the matter this morning said that in some samples his agents had collected, he found that the varnish and shellac applied to the confections had rendered them as hard as flint, and the effect on the stomach of the child could not help being injurious, as any laymen who uses shellac to cover wood could easily determine for himself without the aid of any expert. The shellac is used simply to cheapen and preserve his produce for the manufacturer, without the slightest reference to the health of the consumer or any other consideration except that of pure selfishness and commercial profit.

But in dealing with the powerful forces in the commercial world who would further their own interests at the expense of the public, every resource of the Department will have to be marshaled for the fight and the Commissioner has already arranged with the Federal authorities to secure their hearty and active cooperation. United States District Attorney John H. Jordan of the Western District of Pennsylvania, will assist in the matter, as will also Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry at Washington, whose experts will be present at the trial of the cases to give testimony.

There are hundreds even thousands of people right around here who have had no appetite for a long time and eat only because they must. A Brooklyn man, Thos. J. Sinclair, says in a letter: "For nearly five years I was tormented with stomach trouble. I had no appetite and I suffered so much and so long that it seemed as if I never would get any relief. Vinol proved to be just what I needed. It brought back my appetite, relieved the painful symptoms and now my digestion is perfect. I enjoy every meal now, where formerly eating was almost a punishment."

This delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil is wonderful to stimulate the appetite and build up the body. All who are weak and run down from stomach trouble or other causes should try Vinol on our positive guaranty to refund satisfied. If they are not perfectly satisfied. Piper Bros Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

CHARLEROI BEATS CONNELLVILLE

Completely outclassing the fast Connellville team, the Charleroi basketball five won on Saturday night in their second home game of the Central League. After Adams and his efficient organization of tossers had rushed the Connellvillians to the limit and had scored a satisfactory number of points, the score was 35 to 21. Connellville was the team which licked Charleroi to a frazzle a week ago by superior team work. On Saturday night it was largely superior team work on the part of the Magic City five that won for them the game.

With an enthusiastic bunch of fanatics to cheer him on Capt. Adams proved a star. He shot goals to a finish and captured 19 out of 27 at fouls. Kummer also shone at shooting fouls, securing 15 out of 24. So far as team work was concerned the Charleroi five was on the job all the time. Such passing as the local tossers did, was enough to make the old Egyptian mummies rise from their slabs and howl. Recapitulating the result is that Charleroi is enclosed in the first division. Johnstown will be here tonight and it is a safe assumption that there is going to be big doings. Lineup:

Our Strange Disasters.

How extraordinary are our American disasters. New York alone has had a series of picturesque accidents that is most remarkable. The great fire in the Hoboken docks when mighty steamships drifted up and down stream ablaze from stem to stern; the dreadful Slocum holocaust, and, more recently, the destructive explosion in the New York Central power house, all have been unlike anything with which European cities are familiar. Now the blowing up of a scow of dynamite kills a score of people and shakes the skyscrapers of Manhattan on their earth-shaking foundations. There is panic and confusion through miles of city streets. The damage is put at almost a million dollars. In dramatic strangeness the happenings in our cities stand alone. Only the incredible "Battle of Stepey" which London recently offered can be compared to them.

"How is this for snide?" said the photographer. "The other day I went into a crowded restaurant to take a noonday picture. While I was focusing the camera the leader of a party of men who had been sitting at a table that would show up plainest in the photograph asked the proprietor to make out a ten-dollar check in big figures. He did so. Their own check of $4.65 for the bunch was hidden under a plate and the $10 check was laid down, printed side up, for photographic purposes only."

"If the proprietor had not assured me to the contrary I should have set that down as the most flagrant instance of snobbery on record. He declared that every time the interior of a restaurant is photographed some patron whose ambition is bigger than his pocketbook asks for a check big enough to cover his eating expenses for a week."

Bicycle Wheel in Astronomy.

An interesting use has been found in astronomy for the bicycle wheel. By fitting such a wheel with a series of opaque screens placed at regular intervals and then rotating it with the aid of a small motor at the rate of from 30 to 60 turns in a minute before the cameras used to photograph meteors, one investigator has succeeded in measuring the velocity of the meteor's flight. The principle depends upon the interruptions produced by the screens in the trails of light made upon the photographic plates by the flying meteor. The velocity of the wheel is known at every instant by means of a chronographic record, and the length of the interruptions indicate the speed of the meteor.

The sanitary inspector of Salonica, in Turkey, has adopted a plan for insuring to the public a supply of undiluted milk. He has ordered a supply of cans fitted with valves working in such a manner that a liquid may be poured out but not in. Another opening permits the cans to be filled with milk. The cans, when they are full, are taken to inspection depots, where their contents are chemically tested, after which this second opening is closed and stamped with an official seal. All dealers will be supplied with these cans and compelled to use them.

Spider Web Prophecy.

Some spiders are weather prophets. Perhaps some of you have noticed in the fields in a summer morning the grass covered with little cobwebs. Under each web there is a spider that comes out of a hole in the ground, and all the spiders are alike. When these webs are on the grass it is quite sure not to rain.

bad ones.

ments and solicitors. One big establishment like Kaufman's in Pittsburg would no doubt be glad to sup-
trade of the city.

cost.

is being interpreted.

ghost of the bill collector.

Receptions are as common an occurrence to the passengers on board the duplicate of the New Orleans now traveling the Mississippi river as to President Taft.

If Andrew Carnegie really wants to die poor, he should start eating at a Monessen restaurant.

Men don't care anything for style, but they always manage to have their coat shoulders well padded.

Another Mexican revolt is brewing.

One Ohio man says he got rich voting for the dry element. Gosh, but he must have been a hard drinker.

Dr. Wiley thinks absinthe is a bad drug, and wants it banished. It's a bum kind of booze to get drunk on anyhow.

ocrat of the Jeffersonian school is an ardent admirer of United States
ate.

Legislature by introducing a resolution to do away with the services
with prayer," said Mr. Callaghan.

pressed that caused me to be in Har-
Penrose family, handed down from Revolutionary days, that is al-
mass of people in front of the Lo-chiey Hotel when the pistol was discharged from an upstairs window,
Senate

said:

There was a pause for a few mo-
up:

all purple and snow.
like stars in a row;
of the year again.

and balm and rue.
ender's mists of blue,
the fall of the year again.

and pink and pearl.
Fuchsias like cardrops for fairies a-swing to the wind's soft whirl.
"Mong them I remem'ber netting

CYNICISMS.

The egotist is, always the other fellow.

Few of us suffer from the monotony of happiness.

Many a good bluff has been called by a better one.

Aeroplanes and lobsters are both likely to upset us.

Loading is really no fun unless you have a lot of work to do.

When a man is generous to a fault it is usually his own fault.

It isn't so safe to judge by appearances as by disappearances.

The charity that begins at home is often expended on ourselves.

Popularity merely consists of keeping our troubles to ourselves.

The more a man intends to do tomorrow the less he does today.

Some people seem to be so ultra-refined as to scorn common sense.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

A good thing will always bear repeating, unless it happens to be a vote.

for $2 a year less she let all other considerations go by the board and iden-

nized feature of modern church life.
Because a new member elects to join our congregation does not at all signify that he shares our religious convictions or likes the pastor and our service; it may mean that we charge less for the pew he likes than another church up the street."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Chinese painter will not use them.
He says he saves paint by his method and gets it more evenly distribut-
faces the Chinese paint is not durable,

in commission, and the tentative designs of the boats of this class which

Help Farmers' Wives.

Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, who was recently elected president of the Home Economic Association of New York, has long had charge of the reading course for farmers at the agricultural department of Cornell university. Miss Rose, who was elected secretary of the same association, has been her assistant.

Wants Rights First.

Mrs. Frederick Nathan was asked recently to contribute to the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, but she refused, saying that all the money she could spare would be given to the suffrage cause until the courts declare that "women are people."

pany has opened "eight" schools in southern China, at which natives are taught to embroider with silk by machinery.

CONSTANT PAIN

ham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N.Y. — "Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-
aches, backaches,
made me sick if I tried to walk much,
and my back was so
corsets all the time.

pound, made from roots and herbs,
hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided
advice is free.

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes
New Discovery for weak, sore lungs,

pense or Labor.

service.

Case for Traveling Cushion.

of this description.

is arranged in which papers and
may be carried.

Traveling Cushion.

one using it.

Pepsin stimulates the digestive ap-
Without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

suit for boys.

and two pairs of trousers.

much more quickly than a coat. Sliding down cellar doors, climbing fence s and trees, getting down on one's
have a shortening effect on the life of an ordinary pair of small trousers.
Too frequently the small boy's coat is
time.

A NUTRITIOUS DINNER.

Turkish Soup.—Cook a fourth of a cup of rice in five cups of soup stock until soft. In one and a half cups of tomatoes cook a bay leaf, two slices of onion, one teaspoon of pepper corns, a fourth of a teaspoon of celery salt for fifteen minutes. Combine mixtures, rub through a sieve and thicken with two tablespoonfuls of butter and a tablespoon and a half of flour.

Beef Steak Pie.—Cut remnants of cold broiled steak or roast beef in small pieces, cover with boiling water, add a half an onion and cook an hour very slowly. Remove the onion and thicken with a little flour stirred into cold water, season with salt, pepper.
Add half as much potato as meat, cut in cubes and parboil until nearly soft.
Put into a buttered pudding dish and when cool cover with baking powder biscuit. Steam until the crust is cooked, then bake in the oven until brown.

Russian Salad.—Prepare each of the vegetables separately and marinate (season) with French dressing. Take one cupful each of cold cooked carrots, potatoes, peas, beans and arrange in four sections on lettuce leaves. Cover each section with mayonnaise dressing. Garnish with hard cooked egg whites cut in rings and the yolks put through a ricer, and sprigs of parsley.

Mock Macaroon Ice Cream.—Mix together one tablespoonful of flour, a cup of sugar and one-eighth of a teaspoon of salt; add a beaten egg, then gradually two cups of scalded milk.
Cook over hot water for twenty minutes, stirring constantly at first, then add a quart of cream, a tablespoonful and a half of vanilla. Cool and freeze; when half frozen add a cup of dry brown bread crumbs.

ENJOYS EVERY MEAL

There are hundreds even thousands of people right around here who have had no appetite for a long time and eat only because they must. A Brooklyn man, Thos. J. Sinclair, says in a letter: "For nearly five years I was tormented with stomach trouble. I had no appetite and I suffered so much and so long that it seemed as if I never would get any relief. Vinol proved to be just what I needed. It brought back my appetite, relieved the painful symptoms and now my digestion is perfect. I enjoy every meal now, where formerly eating was almost a punishment."

down from stomach trouble or other causes should try Vinol on our positive guaranty to refund satisfied. If they are not perfectly satisfied, Piper Bros Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

"Yes, I am opposed to American girls marryin' furriners," said old Mrs. Sipes. "I'm jist that opposed to it that if my girls can't marry people of their own sex they needn't marry at all, and that's all there is about it!" —Lippincott's.

CHARLEROI BEATS CONNELLSVILLE

Completely outclassing the fast Connellsville team, the Charleroi basketball five won on Saturday night in their second home game of the Central League. After Adams and his efficient organization of tossers had rushed the Connellsvillians to the limit and had scored a satisfactory number of points, the score was 35 to 21. Connellsville was the team which licked Charleroi to a frazzle a week ago by superior team work. On Saturday night it was largely superior team work on the part of the Magic City five that won for them the game.

With an enthusiastic bunch of fans to cheer him on, Capt. Adams proved a star. He shot goals to a finish and captured 19 out of 27 at fouls. Kummer also shone at shooting fouls, securing 15 out of 24. So far as team work was concerned the Charleroi five was on the job all the time. Such passing as the local tossers did, was enough to make the old Egyptian mummies rise from their slabs and howl. Recapitulating the result is that Charleroi is encased in the first division. Johnstown will be here tonight and it is a safe assumption that there is going to be big doings. Lineup:

How extraordinary are our American disasters. New York alone has had a series of picturesque accidents that is not remarkable. The great fire in the Hoboken docks when mighty steamships drifted up and down stream ablaze from stem to stern; the dreadful Stockton holocaust, and, more recently, the destructive explosion in the New York Central power house, all have been unlike anything with which European cities are familiar. Now the blowing up of a scow of dynamite kills a score of people and shakes the skyscrapers of Manhattan on their earth-piercing foundations. There is panic and confusion through miles of city streets. The damage is put at almost a million dollars. In dramatic strangeness the happenings in our cities stand alone. Only the incredible "Battle of Steppen" which London recently offered can be compared to them.

"How is this for snide?" said the photographer. "The other day I went into a crowded restaurant to take a noonday picture. While I was focusing the camera the leader of a party of men who had been sitting at a table that would show up plainest in the photograph asked the proprietor to make out a ten-dollar check in big figures. He did so. Their own check of $4.65 for the bunch was hidden under a plate and the $10 check was laid down, printed side up, for photographic purposes only.

An interesting use has been found in astronomy for the bicycle wheel. By fitting such a wheel with a series of opaque screens placed at regular intervals and then rotating it with the aid of a small motor at the rate of from 30 to 50 turns in a minute before the cameras used to photograph meteors, one investigator has succeeded in measuring the velocity of the meteor's flight. The principle depends upon the interruptions produced by the screens in the trails of light made upon the photographic plates by the flying meteor. The velocity of the wheel is known at every instant by means of a chronographic record, and the length of the interruptions indicate the speed of the meteor.

The sanitary inspector of Salonica, in Turkey, has adopted a plan for insuring to the public a supply of undiluted milk. He has ordered a supply of cans fitted with valves working in such a manner that a liquid may be poured out but not in. Another opening permits the cans to be filled with milk. The cans, when they are full, are taken to inspection depots, where their contents are chemically tested, after which this second opening is closed and stamped with an official seal. All dealers will be supplied with these cans and compelled to use them.

Some spiders are weather prophets. Perhaps some of you have noticed in the fields in a summer morning the grass covered with little cobwebs. Under each web there is a spider that comes out of a hole in the ground, and all the spiders are alike. When these webs are on the grass it is quite sure not to rain.
